

Hanshin University

Asian Community: Vision of Asian Peace Zone and its Creation

Duration: From March to December 2015

<Workshop before Starting the Course>

(14-15 February) Workshop of Japanese and Korean Scholars who are Lecturers of the Course

<Introduction>

#01 (Introduction to the Course) How we should approach to Asia
李起豪 (professor, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Hanshin University)

#02 Modern times of Asia and modern Asia: harmonization awkwardness and gap
李起豪 (professor, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Hanshin University)

<Reflection on Asia in the 20th century>

#03 Imperialism and war in the process of modernization: groping for new nationhood in the beginning of the 20th century
李惠正 (professor, Chungang University)

#04 Birth of divided nations and intensification of the cold-war structure
李淳成/李ハナ

#05 Re-birth of Japan and contradictory structure of history
Yuji Morikawa (professor, School of Humanities & Social Sciences, Nagasaki Univ.)

#06 North Korea, nation based on “Juche” idea, and its topology in Asia
具甲祐 (professor, University of North Korean Studies)

#07 China, nation of permanent revolution, and Sinocentrism
李熙玉 (professor, Sungkyunkwan University)

<Asia which is coexisting with past history and its future vision>

#08 Memory of kingdoms, colonies and empires, and peace; a case study of Okinawa
Yasukatsu Matsushima (professor, Faculty of Economics, Ryukoku University)

#09 Coexistence with history and memory: a case study of Nagasaki
Kazunori Hayanagi (professor, Faculty of Environmental Studies, Nagasaki Univ.)

<Scheme of Asian peace zone in the 21st century>

#10 Asian Economic Community, a new model for economic cooperation
李日榮 (professor, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Hanshin University)

#11 Trans-boundary response of civil society: tasks caused by changing climate
Toshiya Hirose (representative, ENVIROASIA)

#12 Solidarity among Asian civil societies for restoring democracy and citizens' challenge
Yukio Sato (professor, Faculty of Human Development, University of Toyama)

<Creation of Asian peace zone: workshop/symposium>

- #13 Peace process of Korean Peninsula and a “common house” of Asia [symposium]
李起豪 (professor, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Hanshin University)
- #14 Peace zone to be created by Asian citizens [workshop]
李起豪/チョウミス
- #15 Dream and vision of Asian Community
Yoji Sato (director, One Asia Foundation)

Note Lectures are subject to change according to lecturers' convenience.