

Faculty of History, Peking University
Special Course on “East Asian Community”
Duration: From September to December 2013

- #01 Why we need East Asian Community now — consideration of its starting point
(10 September) 鄭俊坤 (chief researcher, One Asia Foundation)
- #02 History of EU and its influence on East Asia
(17 September) 高 毅 (professor & dean, Faculty of History, Peking University)
- #03 Political development in East Asia after the twar
(24 September) 王新生 (professor, associate dean, Faculty of History, Peking University)
- #04 The United States and East Asian Community
(8 October) 歸永濤 (associate professor, Faculty of International Relations, Peking University)
- #05 Current situation of EU and its future
(15 October) 許 平 (professor, Faculty of History, Peking University)
- #06 Economic development of East Asian countries
(22 October) 周健波 (professor, Faculty of Economics, Peking University)
- #07 Economic cooperation between China and Japan, and East Asian Community
(29 October) 章 政 (professor & associate dean, Faculty of Economics, Peking University)
- #08 Security issues in East Asia and the Community
(5 November) 于鉄軍 (associate professor, Faculty of International Relations, Peking University)
- #09 Energy problems and East Asian Community
(12 November) 查道炯 (associate professor, Faculty of International Relations, Peking University)
- #10 Environmental issues and East Asian Community
(19 November) 包茂紅 (professor, Faculty of History, Peking University)
- #11 Cultural exchanges and East Asian community
(26 November) 王曉秋 (professor, Faculty of History, Peking University)
- #12 Improvement of legal systems and East Asian community
(3 December) 吳志藩 (professor, Faculty of Law & vice president of Peking University)
- #13 The vision of East Asian Community
(10 December) Yoji Sato (director, One Asia Foundation)
- #14 Social development in East Asia
(17 December) 李 文 (fellow, Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences)
- #15 Transformation of Confucianism in East Asia and its role
(24 December) 白永瑞 (professor, Yonsei University in S. Korea)