

The University of British Columbia

History of International Exchanges in East Asia

—Asian Community Considered from the Viewpoint of the Movement of People & Commodities—

Duration: From September to November 2015

- #01 Orientation for the course participants
 Nam-lin Hur (professor, Department of Asian Studies, University of British Columbia)
- #02 Concept and evolution of Asian Community
 鄭俊坤 (chief researcher, One Asia Foundation)
- #03 People's transmigration and East Asia
 Adam Bohnet (assistant professor, History Dept., Western University)
- #04 International politics and conflicts with regard to border issues
 Seonmin Kim (professor, Research Institute of Korean Studies, Korea University)
- #05 East Asian Community considered from the Japanese viewpoint
 Luke Roberts (professor, History Dept., University of California at Santa Barbara)
- #06 East Asian Community in terms of religious exchanges
 Hwansoo Kim (assistant professor, Religious Studies Dept., Duke University)
- #07 China and East Asian Community
 Carla Nappi (associate professor, History Dept., University of British Columbia)
- #08 Territorial conflicts in East Asia
 David Robinson (professor, History Dept., Colgate University)
- #09 East Asian Community considered from the viewpoint of ideological exchanges
 Daeyeol Kim (associate professor, Institut National des Langues et Civilizations Orientales, Universite de Paris-Sorbonne)
- #10 East Asian Community in terms of scientific exchanges
 Benjamin Elsmann (professor, Department of East Asian Studies, Princeton University)
- #11 Asian Community seen from oceanic point of view
 Karen Wigen (professor, Dept. of History, Stanford University)
- #12 World history considered from the viewpoint of East Asian history
 Nam-lin Hur (professor, Department of Asian Studies, University of British Columbia)
- #13 Concluding lecture
 Yoji Sato (director, One Asia Foundation)

*The First International Symposium on the subject of "History Issue and the Formation of Asian Community"
(March 2016) to be participated by about ten researchers/scholars invited from North America and Asia

Note Lectures are subject to change according to lecturers' convenience.