

Sanda University (Shanghai)

Creation of Asian Community — Its Ideal Image and Reality

Duration: From September to December, 2017

- #01                      Translation of Japanese literary works in the “Big Bang” age of information
(21 September)      Xiaowei Shi (professor, Japanese Literature, Sanda University)
- #02                      Demographic change in Japan reflected on neologism and fad words
(28 September)      馬利中 (professor, Demography, Shanghai University)
- #03                      Is “East Asian Cultural Zone” an illusion?
(12 October)        Jing-Bo XU (professor, Cultural Relation between China and Japan, Fudan University)
- #04                      The world will become one in the near future
(19 October)        Yoji Sato (director, One Asia Foundation)
- #05                      Acceptance of Japanese literature / culture by contemporary China
— including from serious literature to sub-culture—
(26 October)        錢曉波 (associate professor, Japanese Literature, Donghua University)
- #06                      Building of East Asian Community
(02 November)      Ling-Yuan Hu (professor, International Politics, Fudan University)
- #07                      Haruki Murakami as a translator
(09 November)      田建国 (professor, Translation, Sanda University)
- #08                      Exchange and fusion of Asian culture (with emphasis on history of ideas)
(16 November)      戴文捷 (associate professor, Pre-modern Thoughts in Japan, Sanda University)
- #09                      Inside / outside of “Hakari-ya” and logic in Taisho Period
— discourse on “The Shopboy’s God (koko no kamisama)” by Shiga Naoya—
(23 November)      李 征 (professor, Japanese Language, Fudan University)
- #10                      The role of civil exchanges in the formation of Asian Community
(30 November)      吳冬青 (associate professor, Japanese Classic Literature, Sanda University)
- #11                      The culture of tea ceremony
(07 December)      Dun-Da Cai (professor, Comparative Culture, Sanda University)
- #12                      Education of Japanese language in China
(14 December)      巴靈維 (professor, Japanese Language, Sanda University)
- #13                      One Asia scholarship award ceremony (by Yoji Sato)
Long-term survival enterprises in Japan
(21 December)      孫靜霞 (professor, Japanese Language, Sanda University, Shanghai)

*Note* Lectures are subject to change according to lecturers’ convenience.