

Course plan and course aim of this year (contents, schedule and lecturer of the course); syllabus to be attached in a separate sheet:

Lecture 1 Course Introduction, and Identity Issue in Postcolonial State. Soon-ok Myong, Ph.D. of Cultural Anthropology, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 2 Contemporary Archeological Researches in CIS Region and Kazakhstan. Prof. Zhaken Taimagambetov, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 3 The Influence of Arabic-Persian phrase into Kazakh language. Prof. Zhubatova Bayan, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 4 Regional Energy Cooperation and Strategy in Central Asia, East Europe and NEA(North Eastern Asia). Prof. Younkyoo Kim, Hayang University.

Lecture 5 Multiethnic situation and tolerance of religious in Kazakhstan. Prof., Zhakibek Altaev, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 6 Postmodernist view of Kazakh and Central Asian identity, Prof. Beket Nurzhanov, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 7 Integration of East Asia. Prof. Kim Yuen, Hanyang University, Korea.

Lecture 8 Language Family Group of Turkic, and Linguistic identity of Kazakh. Prof. Gulnar Nagirova, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 9 Religious Impacts through the Silk Road. Prof. Pankaj Mohan, The Academy of Korean Studies, Korea.

Lecture 10 Historical background of Relationship between Central Asia and East Asia. Asso.Prof. Lyaila Balakayeva, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 11 Discovery of the World: a Korean perspective, Distinguished Prof. Ra Jong-Yil, Hanyang University, Korea.

Lecture 12 Relationships between Korea and Central Asian Countries. Prof. Byong Soon Chun, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 13. Culture: Globalization and Marginalization. Prof. Aliya Massalimova, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 14 Presentation Contest on One Asia Community, and Report Evaluation. Prof. Chun Byong Soon, Al farabi KazNU.

Lecture 15 Special Lecture. Yoji Sato, the Chairman of OAC.

Outline of the whole course (including annual plans and annual objectives):

The course will be an omnibus program with various specialty lecturers: domestic and invited oversea scholars. It will be operated for fall semester 2014 at the faculty of Oriental Studies. All listeners will have 2 credits with condition of attendance, task completion and report submission. Also a Presentation Contest on One Asia Community will be at the end of the course for students who want to participate, and contest participants will be given additional scores and recommended to One Asia Foundation for scholarship award.

Course duration:

Fall semester 2014: September 2014 ~ December 2014

※ please attach separate sheets if you need more space.