

COURSE SCHEDULE OVERVIEW

Week 1 (August 23-25): Engaging with East Asian historical sources

Introduction to the course by instructors Eric Vanden Bussche and Thomas Cox

Week 2 (Aug. 27-Sept. 1): Early Modern East Asian Communities

Speaker: Evelyn Rawski, University of Pittsburgh

Week 3 (Sept. 4-8): Internal Crises and the Collapse of the East Asian World Order

Speaker: Sidney X. Lu, Michigan State University

Week 4 (Sept. 11-15): Reform and Revolution (late 19th and early 20th century)

Speaker: Wen-Hsin Yeh, University of California, Berkeley

Week 5 (Sept. 18-22): Reimagining China: Race, Revolution, and Culture (1900-1930s)

Speaker: Edward Rhoads, University of Texas, Austin

Week 6 (Sept. 25-29): Japan's "Imperial Democracy" at Home and in Korea (1910-1930s)

Speaker: Yumi Moon, Stanford University

Week 7 (Oct. 2-6): Resistance and National Salvation: The East Asia Community at War (Part I)

Speaker: Xiaoyuan Liu, University of Virginia

Week 8 (Oct. 9-13): Resistance and National Salvation: The East Asian Community at War (Part II)

Speaker: Xiaoping Cong, University of Houston

Week 9 (Oct. 16-20): Reconstruction and Recovery

Speaker: Naoko Wake, Michigan State University

Week 10 (Oct. 23-27): The Two Koreas

Speaker: Chen Jian, Cornell University

Week 11 (Oct. 30-Nov. 3): To Mobilize and Transform: The Chinese Under Mao

Speaker: Huaiyin Li, University of Texas, Austin

Week 12 (Nov. 6-10): Geopolitical Shifts in the Asian Community

Speaker: Denise Ho, Yale University

Week 13 (Nov. 13-17): Burying Ideologies (1970s-1990s)

Speaker: Dingxin Zhao, University of Chicago

Week 14 (Nov. 20-24): Thanksgiving Week

Thanksgiving holiday, no class

Week 15 (Nov. 24-Dec. 1): The Formation of the Contemporary Asian Community (late 1990s-2017)

Conference – presentation of papers

Speaker: Yoji Sato